ALBANY, March 31 .- Col. and Senator William Lucifer Brown, Chairman of the Senate Cities Committee, represented the committee this afternoon when the delegation from New York city appeared before it to speak in favor of the bill to repeal the Speedway act. Edward King acted as master of ceremonies. He said that he wished the committee would meet in New York city, so that the laboring men could appear. James Gillon of the Slate and Metal Boofers said he came simply to youch for the resolution against the Speedway and for the repeal of the law. S. J. Brown of the Progressive Painters said that Central Park was too near to the city's centre to have such a thing as a speedway in it. T. H. Me-Cracken of the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union protested against the law and wanted it re-William McNair of the Knights of pealed. William McNair of the Knights of Labor said his organization was against the speedway, and that he believed there was omething back of the bill.

Senator Plunkitt broke in with: "There is not, and I'll attack any one who says there is." Charles B. Stoner of the Park and playground acted as a species of resolution secretary, and presented resolutions from thirtyone different labor organizations, all bearing the seal of their respective orders.

Fred Schaefer of the Clearmakers' Union said that the people he represented loved Central Park, and when they took their families to it they did not want to run the risk of accident by crossing driveways or by going to it by

by crossing ways.

Mr. King said that while the workingmen present were from unions, the committee had but to say the word, and they could have any number and any kind to protest against the number and any kind to protest against the speedway.

Austin F. Fox. a lawyer, said he had no doubt the legislation sought to be repealed was a mistake, and that the full sense of the opposition was not appreciated. Now that it was he hoped that the repeal bill would be onled to passed.

was a mistake, and that the full sense of the opposition was not appreciated. Now that it was he hoped that the repeal bill would be quickly passed.

Chairman Brown said he was not on record for the bill, and did not vote for it. He didn't see so much mischiel in it. He would vote for its repeal because he saw that the people wanted it repealed.

Senator Plunkitt next rose and introduced himself by saying. I am Plunkitt, the fellow who has got all this notoriety for it. I have no apology to offer. I believed it all right. I was born in the middle of the road I tried to make. All there was behind the bill was a little Americanism. I can believe in the American horse, and I selected the route along the Park wall to 100th street, in a dead and forsaken part of Central Park. I expect to pass this repeal bill. If I don't, it will be the first in thirteen legislative sessions. But some of you people who favor it are doing all you can to injure me and delay it. I do not regret what I have done."

W. W. MacFarland, as a constituent of Senator Plunkitt, thanked him for introducing the repeal bill.

ator Plunkitt, thanked him for introducing the repeal bill.

James P. Archibald of the Central Labor Union said his organization in its meetings had protested against the speedway. Orlando B. Potter also spoke for the preservation of the Park from class legislation and a speedway. The delegation left the Sonate Committee and went to the State street entrance of the Capitol, and, after having their picture taken, went to the Assembly Cities Committee and presented the same arguments before it. The Assembly hearing broke up in a row between the labor men of the delegation and Byrnes, Rice, and Dinkelspiel of the committee over the question of which were the better representatives of organized labor. Chairman Webster ordered the committee into secret session and shut off the personal discussion. The delegation then took their special train for home.

ACTRESSES QUIETLY MARRIED.

ouise Alles, the Kangaroo Dancer, Weds Willie" Collier-Her Sister Also a Bride, News of a quiet marriage between wellnown theatrical performers was circulated on the Rialto yesterday. The news was that William F. Collier, who is the joint star with Charles Reed in "Hoss and Hoss," and Miss Louiso Allen, the dancer, were married in this cit last week. Collier is quite young. He is a son of Edmund Kean Collier, the tragedian. and a grandnephew of James W. Collier, the ex-manager, formerly of Shook & Collier, Young Collier began as a call boy in Daly's Theatre, and used to play small parts in Daly's pieces. He made his first hit as the stage manager in "The City Directory," in which he gave a capital imitation of Daly's eccentric manners. Then he became one of the stars in "Hoss and Hoss." He is good looking and lively, as well as ambitious. A year or so ago it was reported that he had secretly married Jennie Yeamans, but Miss Yeamans denied the story, and since then she has become the wife of Charles Dillingham of Milwaukee.

Louise Allen, Mr. Collier's bride, comes of a family of dancers. The sisters, Ricca, Ray, and Louise, have for many years figured conspicuously in Kiralfy ballets and spectacles, and last senson Louise made a great hit in "Dr. Bill." by doing the grotesque "Kangaroo dance" after Edith Kenward, its originator, had returned to England. Miss Allen travelled with the company all the season, and afterward she joined the Reed & Collier troupe, in which she repeated the "Kangaroo dance" and added several new terpsichorean movements. She is a few years older than young Collier, and is a pretty brunette. The marriage was strictly private, only the immediate friends and families of the contracting parties being present.

Ray Allen, a sister of Mrs. Collier, is also manners. Then he became one of the stars in Ray Allen, a sister of Mrs. Collier, is also said to have become a bride recently. Some months ago, while playing at the Garden Theatre, she suddenly left the cast of "La Cigale," and went away rather mysteriously. It was reported at the time that she had cloped with a Rr. Greig of Denyer, but she denied it, and subsequently she returned to the city. It is now said that she has within a fortnight been married to Mr. Greig, and that she will retire from the stage.

The Case of Broker Taibill and Lawyer

Broker Benjamin H. Tuthill and Lawyer Warren W. Foster of this city, who were arrested recently on a charge of grand larceny and conspiracy, had a hearing before Judge prison yesterday. They were arrested on March 12, at the instance of Michael J. Lane. a convict in Sing Prison, who charged them with having tried to defrand him out of some property in New York by getting him to sign a paper which they said was a lower of attorney to sell the property, but which proved to be a deed. The lawyer for the defendants contended that there was no proof that the men had committed a crime. The Judge will announce his decision on April 20.
